Creating a variety of small habitats can help provide homes for bugs, birds, mammals, reptiles, and other animals in the city.

Caring for our diverse ecosystem is important for everyone’s health.

What habitats do you see here?